About us

Strauss Diamond Instruments is the American division of Strauss & Co., an Israeli manufacturer of dental and industrial instruments that has been in continuous operation since 1970. Strauss tools are in use in over 40 countries around the world in a wide variety of dental and industrial applications. Strauss is committed to staying at the "quality edge," both in terms of our products and in terms of our service to customers. Each product we manufacture is hand-inspected for quality before ever leaving our factory. Our efforts have been rewarded with a rating of + + + + ½ from The Dental Advisor on our full line of diamond dental burs. Strauss also offers a wide range of carbides, polishers, disposable burs, and other tools in a variety of sizes and grits, enabling our customers to work with almost every material available in the dental market, including ceramics, porcelain, acrylics, and metals. Our customer service team is among the best in our industry, with the technical understanding to ensure that our customers can find the products they need for even the most challenging of projects. And since we give buyers the opportunity to buy tools directly from the manufacturer, Strauss is able to offer prices far below that of other comparable sellers without sacrificing any of the quality that our customers expect and rely upon.

Instruction for Scanner Sleeves

Scanner Sleeve

Autoclavable sleeve.

Scanner Glass

Please use gloves to avoid finger print marks on glass.

Step 1:

After sterilization, clean glass with soft cloth until clear.

Step 2:

Slide glass with beveled end pointing forward into sleeve.

Step 3:

Confirm glass is placed all the way to the end of sleeve.

Step 4:

Place sleeve onto wand.

Step 5:

Confirm sleeve is pushed all the way on and flush with wand.

Sleeve should look like this. Now you are ready to scan.

Pull sleeve off and remove glass. Sterilize.
